Kaiser On-the-Job® 2011 Locations

Occupational health services in California

This handbook is a guide to Kaiser Permanente's occupational health services throughout California. It shows locations in your area for treatment and physical rehabilitation of on-the-job injuries and illness.

Flexible and convenient

We are pleased to offer the services described in this guide. Kaiser On-the-Job Dedicated Occupational Health Centers are designed to make our services flexible and convenient for you. Whenever appropriate, an injured worker should be directed to one of these centers.

Kaiser On-the-Job Dedicated Occupational Health Center

Our centers provide a broad range of occupational health services that include care for injury and illness, prevention services, pre-placement physical examination, drug testing, medical surveillance examination, and case management. Occupational health specialists, including physicians, physical therapists, psychologists, and case managers, provide services at our occupational health centers.

Medical centers and medical offices

Each Kaiser Permanente service area has one or more medical centers and several medical offices. Medical centers provide hospital services and emergency services, and some provide urgent care as well. Our medical offices are satellite facilities that provide many, but not all, of the services available at our medical centers. The Occupational Health primary care physician you select may practice at either a medical center or a medical office. Contracted Plan facilities provide selected inpatient and/or outpatient hospital and emergency services.

Emergency and urgent care

If you have an emergency medical condition, call 911 or go to the nearest hospital.

An emergency condition is:

1. a medical or psychiatric condition that manifests itself by acute symptoms of sufficient severity (including severe pain) such that you could reasonably expect the absence of immediate medical attention to result in serious jeopardy to your health or serious impairment or dysfunction of your bodily functions or organs; or
2. when you are in active labor and there isn't enough time for safe transfer to a Plan hospital before delivery, or is transfer poses a threat to you or your unborn child's health and safety.

When you are sick or injured, you may have an urgent care need. An urgent care need is one that requires prompt medical attention but is not an emergency medical condition.

After-hours care

After-hours care and same-day appointments are generally available in designated medical centers and medical offices. For information on hours and phone numbers of the facility convenient to you, go to the appropriate page in this guide.

Physician or practitioner availability

The information in this guide is updated periodically. The availability of facilities, practitioners, and hours may change from time to time without notice. For the most current information on office hours, please call toll free 1-888-KOJ-WORK (1-888-565-9675) or 711 (TTY for the deaf, hard of hearing, or speech impaired) weekdays from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.
